

Membership

NACCP has discontinued the “members only” section of our website and thus we are no longer offering annual memberships. We sincerely thank those of you who supported our efforts to provide additional teacher resource materials through your memberships.

Over the past year, we have significantly increased collaboration with the University of Cambridge School Classics Project (<http://www.cambridgescp.com>) and found the content currently offered through their website to be a valuable resource for CLC teachers, not just in the United Kingdom but here in North America.

CSCP offers several options to access that content, including a $15 annual cost for teacher access, plus $3 per student. For more information go to their website: http://www.cambridgescp.com/Upage.php?p=clc^oa_intro^subs

We hope that former NACCP members will continue investing in additional CLC content, but through the CSCP website for the new school year. For non-members, we encourage you to check out the breadth and depth of materials available through CSCP to help you and your students realize the full potential of the Cambridge Latin Course.
